

VAIN SEARCH FOR INSANE PIANISTE

Clara Conners, a Beautiful Girl, Mysteriously Disappears After Dining with Her Uncle in a Restaurant.

FRIENDS FEAR FOUL PLAY.

Young Woman Does Not Know Her Own Name and Always Follows Any One Who Speaks to Her—Has Been Demented for Years.

There is much to appeal to the heart in the disappearance of Clara Conners, the beautiful musician, who has been missing since Sunday afternoon. The light of reason does not shine from her big gray eyes, she does not know her own name and, it is the fear of her friends and relatives that some unscrupulous person is keeping her captive and taking advantage of her helpless condition.

Although she has been a mental wreck for years, Miss Conners is a woman of striking appearance. She is tall, of good figure and complexion and the possessor of a wealth of brown hair. This hair reaches to her waist and is cut straight across at the ends.

She lived with Mrs. Bertha Langdon at No. 27 West Thirty-fourth street.
Mrs. Langdon has taken care of her ever since she lost her reason because of the death of her father, mother and brother within a few weeks of each other. It was from Mrs. Langdon's house that she went out in an automobile on Sunday with her uncle, L. G. Palmer, who has a conservatory of music at One Hundred and Nineteenth street and Lenox avenue.

Vanished at Restaurant Door.
Mr. Palmer took her to a restaurant at One Hundred and Fourteenth street and First avenue, where they had lunch.
The girl disappeared while he was paying the bill at the cashier's desk. She went out of sight in a few minutes and no trace of her after she left the restaurant door has been found.

SEEK MISSING MAN RESEMBLING DEWEY

Police, Family and Private Detectives Can Find No Trace of Sampson H. Levy, Who Vanished Saturday.

No trace has yet been found of Sampson H. Levy, who for three days has been missing from his home, at No. 61 East Seventy-third street, although private detectives and members of the family have joined the police in the search.
His disappearance is a complete mystery.

Mr. Levy was employed by the New York Life Insurance Company and, according to friends, his habits were "like a clock." He was never absent from home without sending word to his wife, to whom he has been married twenty-seven years.

On Saturday he went home at noon with his son, a young lawyer, and, instead of taking his usual nap after lunch, he said he was going for a walk. He has not been seen since by his family.

When he did not return to dinner Mrs.
Levy felt some anxiety, but the son did not become worried until his father did not come home late at night. Early Sunday morning a search was made among relatives and friends in New York, but it was in vain.

It was found that soon after leaving his home he had gone into a saloon, where he was known to the proprietor and bartender. He drank two glasses of beer and went away. That was about as much as he ever drank and the private detective in the saloon said he was perfectly sober when he left.

Mr. Levy does not look unlike Admiral Dewey, his friends say. He is forty-seven years of age, five feet ten inches tall and wore a light gray suit.

NEW YORK WOMAN FOUND IN MAINE

Miss Walsh Wandered in Demented Condition from Roxbury, Mass.—Brother Goes to Escort Her Back to City.

Andrew J. Walsh, of No. 63 East Nineteenth street, started for Portland, Me., to-day to get his sister, Miss Mary Walsh, sixty years old, and mentally ill, who was found there after she had been missing two weeks from Roxbury, Mass.

Miss Walsh, who had been a seamstress until a few years ago, and who lived with her brother in this city, went to visit a cousin, W. D. Pennaway, in Roxbury, a month ago.

She left their home after supper one evening two weeks ago, saying she was going for a short walk. That was the last seen of her by her friends until she was found wandering through the streets of Portland, Me., a week ago.
Her mind was then so clouded that she was unable to identify herself, and until yesterday she was kept in a hospital room. Her statements were coherent and she was as sane as the moment her brother in New York a message was sent to him.

Her brother's son died in this city several months ago, and this seemed to have a depressing effect on her. She was very nervous and, it is thought, she had been drinking. Her brother will take her home to-day.

SPECIAL TRAIN RUSHES RICH YOUTH TO HOSPITAL.

John Willets, Son of Millionaire Horseman, Is Operated On Here for Blood-Poisoning.

John T. Willets, the sixteen-year-old son of Howard Willets, the millionaire horse fancier, is recovering at the New York Hospital to-day from an operation performed there to prevent the spread of blood poisoning.

A special train brought young Willets in from his father's country place, Gedy-ney Farm, White Plains.
The Willets boys are fond of outdoor sports and scratches and bruises are common to them. Young Willets paid no attention to a slight scratch on his leg and could not tell how he received it.
It finally began to swell and pain him and his father decided it was a case of blood poisoning. He ordered a special train to bring the boy to New York, and the doctors at the hospital decided upon an immediate operation. The father has not left the boy's side since the operation was performed and will remain with him until all danger is past.

The boys, "Jack" and "Macy," who is twelve years old, have the run of the stables at Gedyney Farm and some time ago sold an impromptu wolf hunt. The wolf was kept in a cage near the stables and the boys set him free and started the hounds on the trail. Several of the hounds were almost killed, but the boys voted it great sport.

SEALED UP ROOM, TURNED ON GAS

Unidentified Man Found Dead in a Boarding-House in Brooklyn, E. D., Supposed to Have Been a Commercial Traveller.

With nothing in his clothing that would give any idea of his identity a man about thirty-five years old, well dressed, committed suicide to-day in a room he engaged at No. 96 Cedar street, Will-lamstburg.

He had sealed up his room and turned on two gas jets. When discovered by Mrs. Murke, who keeps the lodging-house, he was unconscious, but he died before an ambulance reached the house.
The man was about 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighed 160 pounds. He told Mrs. Murke when he went to the house yesterday that he was a travelling man. He had evidently destroyed everything that could reveal his identity.

FIREED REVOLVER AS HE DREAMED OF BURGLARS.

Charles Bock Nearly Hit Two Persons Who Were Passing in the Hall.

Dreaming that burglars were in his apartment at No. 240 East Fifty-fifth street, Charles Bock opened fire with his revolver, terrorizing the other tenants and missing John O'Connell and his daughter, who happened to be passing in the hall, by a narrow margin.

O'Connell and his seventeen-year-old daughter had been to visit a sick friend and returned to their own apartment early to-day. They were walking quietly through the hall when they were startled by two shots, quickly followed by others.

They felt the bullets sting past their heads and threw themselves on their faces, thinking that there was a fight in the hall. Men came hurrying out of the other apartments and as they did they heard Bock yelling for the police.
He would let no one else in the door and at last Policeman Burns, of the East Fifty-first street station, came. It was a long time before he got the man awake and made him understand what he had been doing. Then the frightened people went back to a restless sleep. There was more than one bad dream in the building before daylight.

RYAN'S DIAMOND PASTE.

Arrested for Selling Good Stone and Substituting Piece of Glass.

James Ryan, whose picture is in the Rogues' Gallery, was arraigned this morning in the West Side Court on a complaint of George Snyder, of No. 212 West Forty-sixth street, for selling him a diamond that proved not to be a diamond.

Ryan interested Mrs. Snyder in a stone that he said was worth $90. Mrs. Synder said that when he showed her the diamond at first it was a real diamond.
Then a substitution took place, and when she bought the ring it contained nothing but a piece of glass. Ryan was held for examination.

How Many Folk Know Just How Good This Big Basement Store Is?

GOOD many, of course—but not enough. Really, there's no place in this immense building where a woman who is fond of the kitchen and cookery could spend so pleasant an hour or two. It is not the sort of a Housefurnishing Store you have been accustomed to, by any means. A place for everything and everything in its place, brings order out of chaos. You know how trying it usually is to pick up little utilities for the kitchen and home. Here we have completely furnished kitchens—containing every requisite. As you choose, some willing worker makes your list; you save miles of travel.

These early October days, when so many new trinkets are necessary, provide the best time of the year to buy what you may need, and save in the same breath.
